All The News

Next week....

Reading: How do I ask strong questions about informational text? How do I answer questions by citing evidence from informational text?

Writing: How do I write informational texts with strong and interesting facts in a logical sequence? How do I begin an informational piece, so I hook my reader? How do I conclude my informational writing, so my reader feels a sense of ending? How do I choose transitions for my informational writing?

Math: How do I use strategies to solve addition problems with and without regrouping?

Grammar: How do I determine what words need to be capitalized (proper nouns, beginning of sentences)?

Phonics: How do I read words fluently with the ou/ow spelling pattern?

Science: How do objects move? How do forces like gravity and friction affect how an object moves?
